Description

This 2012 Kia Sedona CRDi 3 offers a rare find for buyers, as it has covered only 67,200 miles, which is very low mileage for its age. This seven-seat vehicle is powered by a 2.2 litre diesel engine, providing a practical solution for those needing extra space and reliable performance. As a CRDi 3 variant, it combines the utility of a large family vehicle with the efficiency of a diesel powertrain, making it a well-rounded choice for daily driving or longer journeys. The inclusion of seven seats makes this model an ideal option for larger families or those who frequently transport groups, offering more versatility than many standard five-seat vehicles. By choosing this specific trim level, drivers benefit from a well-equipped interior designed to accommodate passengers comfortably. The combination of its low mileage and the robust 2.2 litre engine suggests that this vehicle has been well maintained, positioning it
